LEAGUE OF NATIONS ISSUE MAY BE REOPENED

3000 MINERS IDLE FAILURE TO AGREE

Skilled Miners Have Been Averaging About $10 a Day—Coal Operators Say They Have Been Losing Heavily

SEATTLE, March 16.—Twenty-four coal mines are closed today and 3000 miners idle as a result of the failure of operators and employes to reach an agreement on a wage reduction of 23 per cent. The miners already and those closed by the strike, constitute 90 per cent of the shafts of the state. The railroad mines on the east side of the Cascades are unaffected.

Skilled miners have been getting from $8 to $20 a day, depending on their output, with an average of about $10 a day, while under the scale offered by the employers the men would receive from $6 to $15 a day. Men underground, paid by the day, would receive $5.89, while they have been getting $8.25. Common laborers underground would be reduced from $7.55 to $5.20. Laborers on the surface would receive $4.65, while they have been getting $7. High-grade coal is sold to the miners for household use at $2.35 to $3.50 a ton, and houses are rented for $4 to $15 a month, the average being $7. Coal operators say they have been losing heavily for some time and that they must either close or reduce wages.

STAINER'S ORATORIO 'THE CRUCIFIXION'

To Be Presented by Combined Choirs of St. Mark's and First Congregational

A very ambitious and interesting musical event is in prospect for the pleasure of Glendalians. It is nothing less than a rendition of the oratoric Stainer's "The Crucifixion," by the combined choirs of St. Mark's and the First Congregational Churches of this city. Its first presentation will be at the Congregational Church Wednesday evening, March 23. Two evenings later, or March 25, it will be given at St. Mark's. Besides the chorus of 35 voices there will be a fine double quartette. The work does not call for soprano, baritone or contralto solos but tenor and bass solos will be sung by Charles Comfort, D. Ripley Jackson and Jesse Burson. D. Ripley Jackson accepted the challenge of those who said such an oratorio could not command enough singers of calibre to do it justice, in a town the size of Glendale, and he is directing the production. Mrs. Joseph Kitt, organist of St. Mark's, will be the accompanist.

BOY SCOUT COUNCIL CONSIDERS PLANS

New Members Are Added to Working Organization and Finances Discussed

At the adjourned meeting of the Glendale Council, Boy Scouts of America, held Tuesday at the office of Roy Kent evening, appointments were made to bring the enrollment up to 25 and make a strong working organization. Those present at the meeting were: S. B. Kellogg, C. C. Cooper, Captain W. C. Wattles, Frances Gilman, R. D. White, R. L. McCourt, A. T. Cowan, Ben Robison, Judge Lowe, J. C. Crawford, Dr. Farrow and Secretary Roy Kent. On the list of new council members appointed were: H. S. Webb, J. C. Crawford, Judge Lowe, C. C. Cooper, H. M. Butts and Dr. A. H. Guernsey.

These new council members, with those previously enrolled, will constitute a directorate. These include C. C. Chandler, president; Dr. J. C. Eckles, first vice-president; Herman Nelson, treasurer; David Black, John Robert White, Charles Ingledue, A. H. Akin, C. H. Toll, and the members present at the meeting and named above.

Plans of work were discussed and the committee on finance reported a proposed budget for the coming year. A committee was appointed consisting of President C. L. Chandler, vice-president J. E. Eckles, treasurer Herman Nelson and David Black, to devise ways and means of raising the budget and submit their plans to the council March 29.

Mr. Cheeseman, prospective scout executive, was present, and gave a short talk on scouting and an outline of his plan of work for the coming year should he be made executive.

Well Nigh Complete Silence Has Been Maintained by the Administration

LEADERS ARE NONCOMMITTAL

French and British Governments Willing to Make Any Concessions Our Government May Desire

By J. BART CAMPBELL
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 16.—The well-nigh complete silence which the new administration and the Republicans in the senate have observed with regard to the reopening of the league of nations' issue apparently is causing no little concern in the French and British governments. Activities noted in Washington show these governments are keenly desirous of finding out just where the league issue stands under the new regime in Washington.

While the French foreign office recently denied that any official overtures are being made to the new administration on the subject, it was learned today that agents of both Great Britain and France have undertaken a campaign of "sounding out" prominent Republicans in the senate to ascertain their willingness or unwillingness to reopen the league issue and particularly to find out what modifications are necessary to reconsideration.

These overtures are being made in the form of written communications marked "confidential," which have been received by a number of senators and by personal emissaries. The impression has been drawn by Republican opponents of the league that the French and British are willing to make any concessions and stand for any modifications desired by the senate.

WOOLWINE-SCHENCK FREE-FOR-ALL FIGHT

(By International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, March 16.—In a sensational affray that threw the courtroom into an uproar and which threatened to develop into a free-for-all fight District Attorney Thomas L. Woolwine struck Paul Schenck a smashing blow in the face during the trial today of Everett A. Hutchings, "Big Hutch," alleged bunko leader, charged with having bunkoed J. B. Norris, in Superior Judge Willis' court.

Woolwine was enraged by a question which the defense attorney had asked of a witness regarding a report that the District Attorney's office had agreed to get Norris' money back for him if he testified.

Schenck was seated at the attorneys' table, with Woolwine standing above him. When the blow was struck Woolwine's fist caught Schenck on the mouth as he sat in his chair, his glasses flying to the floor.

Schenck jumped to his feet and swung his right fist at the attorney. Woolwine stepped back, avoiding the blow and, as the two men, their faces scarlet with rage, started toward each other, officers and speculators rushed in between them.

The fight occurred during a court recess and Judge Willis announced that he would reprimand the attorneys later.

C. OF C. DIRECTORS LUNCH AT G. U. H. S.

The luncheon enjoyed by the directorate of the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday noon in the bungalow of the domestic science department of the high school, was a pretty affair. White and green, the St. Patrick colors, featured the decorations and the table was exceedingly pretty in its appointments. Girls responsible for the luncheon under the direction of Miss Hanson, head of the department, were Viola Andrews and Vivian Wheeler. Considerable business was transacted.

The board decided to take a referendum vote of the chamber membership on the bond issues and city charter, to be voted on March 29.

The project to locate a plant for the Hydro-Stone Company in Glendale was referred to W. E. Hewitt.

The committee appointed to secure permanent location reported progress.

A proposition for an underground crossing for Glendale boulevard under the Southern Pacific tracks, was referred to E. P. Hayward, chairman of the committee on railroads and public utilities.

The next luncheon of the directorate at the high school will take place two weeks hence, or March 29, in the same place. As next week is the Easter vacation, it will not be possible for the domestic science department to entertain the board.

Secretary Rhoades reports that during the past few days inquiries have been received from the following persons concerning Glendale:

L. C. Brown, Berkeley, California, asking about opportunity for variety and men's clothing store.

A. Jones, Lancaster, California, pertaining to well and mining drilling.

A. H. Westfall, Petaluma, California, regarding poultry raising.

E. M. Porter, Huntington, Virginia, coming here to settle.

C. A. O'Brien, Los Angeles, coming here, wants house to live in.

J. W. Bauer, Riverside, California, contractor, coming here to live.

C. W. Zimmer, Los Angeles, wants bungalow, coming here to live.

HIGH SCHOOL EVENT CALENDAR

Friday evening—Junior Dance in high school gymnasium, open to all students and members of the alumni. Music by Gene's Orchestra. Tickets, $1.25.

Saturday, March 19—League track and field meet at Alhambra High. Seven teams will compete and Glendale High will send two teams, its 120-pound team and its unlimited weight team.

Thursday afternoon, March 17—First league baseball game between Glendale and Franklin Highs.

Tuesday afternoon there was a practice baseball game between the teams of Glendale and Burbank Highs. It resulted in a score of 16 to 1 in favor of Glendale.

The track meet between Glendale's unlimited weight team and San Fernando High's team at San Fernando Tuesday afternoon, was a very close contest, San Fernando winning by a very narrow margin.

GUARDSMEN DRILL AT HIGH SCHOOL

At the drill of the Glendale infantry company, California National Guard, Thursday evening on the high school athletic field, Major M. P. Vestal will again be present and give 45 minutes' instruction to the entire company in the nomenclature of the rifle and sighting exercises.

Mr. Clark and family are moving from 219 West Lomita to their own home at 405 West Wilson avenue.

NEAR DEPARTURE OF M'RAE FAMILY

Members of the First Congregational Church of this city and others in the circle of friends that Mr. and Mrs. W. D. McRae have made here, are fairly desolated over their approaching departure for Auburn, New York, where Mr. McRae has purchased a farm of which he wishes to take possession. They have been so helpful in church matters and in activities of general civic interest that they will be much missed. A number of social affairs have been given in their honor and at the Father and Son banquet Tuesday night, sincere regret over the loss to the local Y. M. C. A. organization was voiced by more than one member.

Mr. McRae has been state secretary of the Y. M. C. A. and his duties afield have taken him much from home. He says he realizes that his boys need his attention from now on, and that is the mainspring of his desire for a farm. He states that R. P. Anderson, former Y. M. C. A. county secretary, will be his neighbor. Mrs. Bates and Miss Martha Bates, mother and sister of Mrs. McRae, who recently came to Glendale and are now living on North Kenwood street, will remain here so the McRaes may be looked for as visitors, if not as returning residents.

PHILATHEA CLASS GIVEN A PARTY

The members of the Philathea Class of the First Presbyterian church were very delightfully entertained with a St. Patrick's party at the church last Monday evening.

At about 8 o'clock they met in the bungalow, which had been decorated for the occasion in green and white. After a pleasant evening, spent in playing games, the young ladies marched to the ladies' parlor, where a beautifully appointed table was spread for them.

The session of the church also held a meeting at the same time, so the young ladies knowing that a man is always ready to eat, invited them to partake of the delicious refreshments provided by the social committee, in charge of Miss Marie Maier. This was indeed a surprise to the men, but they accepted with great pleasure and certainly did their part when it came to eating.

When they were about half through the young ladies expressed the desire of their hearts—the need of a new class room. For some time they have been meeting in cramped quarters and it has become imperative that a new room be provided. After a great deal of discussion the session regularly passed a motion that a room be prepared for the class to meet in on Sunday mornings. The girls were so elated at the prospects of a place where they can meet and study their lessons that they promised to give the entire session a dinner at their next meeting.

To Have Class Rule

With a nice class room, concerted leadership and the cooperation of the whole class great things are expected from the young ladies in the near future, and it won't be long before the girls expect to outgrow their new room.

Those present at the party were Misses Jessie, Rita and Anna Levy, Marie Maier, Ruth Hall, Jeanette Heideman, Vera Grant, Mildred Elliot, Phyllis Baker, Marion Clark, Mary McDill, Elizabeth Edmonds, Lucile Andrews, Ella Dockter, Margaret Mansfield, Ethel Preston, Josephine Rettberg, Marjorie Smith, Mrs. Nelson, and the members of the session, Mr. Howard Brown, Mr. Colvin, Mr. Baker, Mr. Isitt, Mr. Finlay, Mr. Boyd, Mr. Harrison and the pastors of the church, Rev. W. E. Edmonds and Rev. Louis Tinning.

Both the girls and the men are hoping that more such good times will be held in the future.

"IDOLS OF CLAY" AT PALACE GRAND

"Idols of Clay" is the feature picture at the Palace Grand today. It was produced by George Fitzmaurice, the producer of "On With the Dance," a very popular photoplay.

"Idols of Clay" gives an opportunity for the picturing of some wonderful tropical scenes, including a shipwreck in the tropic seas, with the survivors landing on an island. Scenes from London life are also featured.

An exceptionally good musical program is also provided by Nils Gilliam, the new orchestra leader, who has had grand opera experience and who promises better music from the new ten-piece orchestra than Glendale theatergoers have ever heard from any similar aggregation of musicians. Preston Lodwick, the new drummer, has been making a great hit with his xylophone solos.

TELEPHONE HEARING UP YESTERDAY

Yesterday the application of the Southern California Telephone Company for permission to increase its rates came up before the railroad commission. City Attorney Hartley Shaw of Glendale was present but at the preliminary session nothing of material interest to this city transpired.

The company has but few subscribers in this municipality.

Dr. and Mrs. H. G. Westphal, 337 North Isabel street, have as their house guests the doctor's brother, F. W. Westphal, his wife and two of their children. F. W. Westphal has been an Adventist missionary in Chile for 17 years, and in the Argentine Republic for 11 years, where his son is now a physician.

GLENDALE THEATER HAS FINE BILL

"The Colonel's Lady and Judy O'Grady" are said by Rudyard Kipling to be "sisters under the skin"; when they happen to look exactly alike, intricate complications may arise.

This is the theme about which is woven the story of "Rich Girl, Poor Girl," the feature picture at the Glendale Theatre today, with Gladys Walton playing a dual role.

The photodrama concerns two girls who look exactly alike. One is a little gutter waif from the slums, while the other is the pampered daughter of a multi-millionaire. The two girls change identities for an hour. In the rage of the poor girl, the rich girl goes to the slums and is kicked and beaten by the drunken father of Nora McShane. Nora, wearing the fine clothes of Beatrice Vanderfleet, her counterpart, "plays lady" in the Vanderfleet place.

The remainder of the cast is well selected to play in the star's support.

'Fathers and Sons' Enjoy Banquet at M. E. Church

Feast of Oratory and Music Follows, With Dr. John Brown Jr. as the Leading Speaker—A Father Should Be a Real Man and a Model for His Boy

The "Father and Son" banquet at the First M. E. Church last night was attended by more than 300 men and boys, and was a wonderful success in every particular. Many boys whose fathers are dead were adopted for the evening by kindly disposed men who had no sons of their own.

After all had satisfied their appetites, David Black, district president, took charge for a few moments, and after Rev. Edmonds had offered prayer, Neil Locke, county president, conducted a stirring song service. Then G. E. Murphy, toastmaster, assumed charge of the program. Dale Wood spoke on "Our Dads" most entertainingly, making many telling points.

A. L. Ferguson, vice-principal of the high school, made a deep impression on the audience with his address on "Team Work by Father and Son."

"Father as Seen Through a Boy's Specs," was Lyle McAllister's theme and he handled it admirably, making some suggestions that fathers would do well to heed.

Paul Edmonds then told the audience "What a Boy Expects From His Father," which he said was a good education, a right example, encouragement of Y. M. C. A. work and that he be a comrade.

After a very pleasing baritone (horn) horn solo by Cecil Percy, accompanied on the piano by his sister, Miss Lois, the speaker of the evening, Dr. John Brown Jr., a well-known national Y. M. C. A. worker, was introduced. Dr. Brown has been in Y. M. C. A. work for 23 years, most of the time as a physical director. He spent four years in France as a major in the Canadian army. His subject was "The Greatest Profession in the World, Being a Father." He spoke of some of his experiences across the seas and drew from them the moral contained in these three lines:

"The noblest thing in the world is a man;"

"The saddest wreck in the world is that of a man;"

"The grandest work in the world is the making of a man."

A father should be the real thing and a model for his boy to pattern after, he said. Father, mother and children are a partnership. We spend time and money learning about rotation in crops, breeding of stock, etc., but think little of a far more important work, that of training the boys. There are more divorced boys than men and women. Even though father and mother are in accord, yet often, too often, the boy is far from their thoughts and plans, as if he were not in the home. In closing, the speaker urged the fathers to be comrades of their sons, both in work and play, to not neglect sex education and give great attention to their religious life.

THE BETROTHAL OF EGBERT M. POLLEY

Of unusual interest to a large number of Glendale friends comes the engagement announcement from Oakland, California, of Egbert Marion Polley to Miss Dorothea Marian Force of San Francisco. The marriage will take place in the northern city during the early summer.

Since his discharge from the army Mr. Polley has made his home at the Oakland Elks' Club and has been a popular faculty member of the Oakland high school, at which institution he has full charge of athletics. While in Glendale he endeared himself to the grammar school children as playground instructor.

'DAWN OF TOMORROW' CONGREGATIONALISTS

Professor Clyde Sheldon Shepard of Pomona College, who supplied the pulpit of the Congregational Church for some time last year, will give a dramatic reading entitled, "The Dawn of Tomorrow," at th eFirst Congregational next Sunday evening, at 7:30.

Grace Anna Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Ripley Jackson of South Brand, is ill with measles.

HOLD UP HANDS; DELIVER MONEY

(By International News Service)

ATTLEBORO, Mass., March 16.—Answering the drop on the switchboard at 2:30 a. m., Miss Emma Jamieson, night operator at the telephone exchange, heard the words: "Hold up your hands and deliver all your money before we blow your brains out."

She at once connected the police station with the call and Patrolman Fournier heard enough conversation to know that a hold-up was being committed. After a few commands, the robber said: "Cut those telephone wires."

The call came from the store of Philip St. Germaine, in Phillips street, Germantown district, and with Patrolman Norwood, Paradis and O'Donnell, Fournier hurried to the store.

In the meantime, the robbers, both of whom were masked, demanded that St. Germaine, who is a cripple with no legs, deliver his money.

St. Germaine insisted that he had no more than $30 in the cash drawer, which the thieves took. They gave back a ring and watch, declaring they were of no value.

After threatening St. Germaine's life they warned him that if he told the police or the newspapers they would come back.

The men escaped before the officers arrived. St. Germaine could not give a good description of the men.

LITTLE BENNY'S NOTEBOOK

BY LEE PAPE

I saw Ed Wernick and Reddy Merfy sneeking up the alley yestidday aftirnoon, me saying, Wats up, fellows?

Shh, we're going to kidnap Sid Hunts dog and hold him for a ranson, sed Reddy. And they kepp on sneekfng, me following them to see wat happened, and the Huntses back gate was unlocked and Ed Wernick opened it and Sids fox terrier Teddy came running out and Reddy Merfy picked him up and they both ran like the dickins, me running after them, to see wat els happened, and they ran erround to Reddys back yard and put Teddy in, and after suppir the fellows was standing erfound the lam post and Sid Hunt came erround the corner wissling for something and looking in all direcktions as if he was looking for the same thing, and he came up and Reddy Merfy said, Wats the matter Sid did you lose something?

Teddy ran away, he opened the back gate all by himself and ran away, that dogs too darn brite, thats wats the matter with him I gess he watched me open the gate and did it the same way I did it, sed Sid Hunt.

All the fellows saying, Aw, aw, wats you giving us, and Reddy Merfy saying, wat will you give if I find him for you, how mutch ransom will your father pay?

He wont pay eny, I dont even know if he'll leeve me take him back if I find him, he's all the time digging holes in the yard, but he's a smart dog all rite, look how he opened the gate by himself jest by watching me, sed Sid.

Aw heck, sed Reddy Merfy. And he wawked away and pritty soon who came running up barking but Teddy, and he jumped up and kissed Sids face, Sid leeving him do it as if he was some relation, and I went erround and looked over Reddy Merfys back fents and heer there was 3 big holes dug in the yard, and Reddy wasent allowed out last nite, that proberly being the reason.

FIRST M. E. CHURCH GREAT SOCIAL RALLY

Next Saturday night young people of the Epworth League of the First Methodist church, married and unmarried, up to 35 years of age, are to unite in a great rally social. Their program calls for a rousing good time and election of officers for the ensuing year. Refreshments will be served.

Rev. Clyde M. Crist goes to Burbank Thursday afternoon to take charge of a meeting in connection with pre-Easter meetings which are being conducted by Rev. J. F. Allen of the First Methodist church of that city.

PLENTY IN PROSPECT

"I shall love to share all your trials and troubles, Jack darling."

"But, Daphne dear, I have none."

"No, not now, darling; I mean when we're married!"—The Passing Show (London).

EARLY DAYS OF THE CIRCUS

Methods by Which Rivals Fought Each Other Were Not Always Fair as Might Have Been.

In what we refer to as the "opposition days," says Mr. John Ringling in the American Magazine, circus life was full of thrills. It was real warfare against powerful enemies, a fight for existence on our part. When we had begun to grow and had established our policy of honesty and clean shows, the big fellows fought us hard.

One of their favorite tricks was to slip into our parade a wagon with large signs announcing that we were a nice little show, but that the big show was coming next week. It was a constant fight to prevent the wagon from getting into our parade. Once Charles Ringling quietly announced that he would give a five-dollar gold piece for each nut from it; and when it started to join our parade it fell to pieces like the "one-hoss shay." On another occasion some of our men sawed its timbers, so that at the first heavy jolt it collapsed in a heap. Another time, the opposition hid the objectionable wagon out in the country; but Charles learned which road it would take and fixed a bucket of green paint with a hose and force pump under a bridge. When it started to cross the bridge, our men pumped and squirted paint until all the lettering was obliterated.

Such unfair fighting never profited the opposition to any great extent. Indeed, it aroused sentiment in our favor. It is a question in my mind now whether it would not have been better policy to permit the wagon to parade with us and to rely upon the sense of fair play of the American public, but it was hard to see it in that fight when we were fighting for existence.

EVER SYMBOLS OF RELIGION

Before the Days of Christianity Leaves of the Clover Plant Were Used as Illustrations.

Even in Druidic worship, in pre-Christian times, the trefoil leaves of the clover plant were symbols of religion, setting forth the three grades of Druids, Bards and Neophites. In Christian mythology its leaf is frequently held to symbolize the Trinity, and some Irish authorities insist that it is the true and original shamrock which St. Patrick used to illustrate how three separate objects, such as leaves, could be one.

The four-leaf clover is a freak growth, and the causes that produce it are heredity and nutrition. After a moist season clover plants with from four to seven leaves, and some having only two leaves, are found. Some plants are abnormal by heredity, and reproduce themselves with the same characteristics in successive years when their environment remains the same, external influences merely modifying the size of the leaves.

The four-leaf clover is everywhere held as an omen of good luck to the finder, partly on account of its rarity and partly because of its crosslike form. In Germany it is believed a four-leaf clover will overcome witchery, win love, guard one from danger when traveling, and secure a safe return, and if plucked on St. John's eve will enable the finder to work wonders in magic.

Wisdom in Loading Up Work.

Because other folks do not organize their work they get tired and quit. Or it may be they lose their nerve because they do not see the way out. You have come into your powers so gradually that it seems second nature to you. Accordingly you hustle along with keen satisfaction while the other fellow worries or even gives up. There's nothing like loading up when you do it wisely. Besides adding to your own strength you are doing something that benefits your fellow men. You profit on two scores. The satisfaction of knowing you are doing your full share and the praise men will give when they realize what you are contributing toward the world's welfare. The weakling can gain strength, and the strong man become a benefactor when they use their heads in loading up. Begin today to rise into your heritage. Load up.

Ingersoll Quoted Scripture.

There has been no modern controversialist who, in the audacious use of scripture, could surpass the once celebrated Colonel Ingersoll, most influential of agnostic lecturers in America in his day. His anti-theological enterprises did not exhaust his energies; Ingersoll was a powerful champion of sound currency during the epoch of inflated paper money after the Civil war. In a speech on this exciting subject he once delivered himself to the following effect: "I hope to see the day when every greenback in the United States will be able to rise up on its edge and say 'I know that my redeemer liveth!"

Measuring Earth's Circumference.

Erastothenes, who lived between 275 and 195 B. C., probably was the first to measure the earth's circumference and adopted the same method that is employed at present. He found that the distance between Syene and Alexandria was one-fiftieth of a great circle—about seven degrees 13 minutes—and on this basis computed the circumference of the earth to be 250,000 stadia. The exact length of the stadium he used is not known and it is not possible to compute the degree of error in his calculations.

MEXICO BANKS WILL RESUME BUSINESS

(By International News Service)

MEXICO CITY, March 16.—The adoption of the new law expediting the reopening of the Banco Nacional de Mexico and the Banco de Londres and Mexico has greatly improved financial conditions here. Several years ago when the gold and silver reserves of these institutions were taken over by the Government, bills of the Banco Nacional dropped from 40 cents on the peso to 25 cents. The Banco Londres bills fell as low as 18 cents.

With the announcement that these banks are soon to resume business, Banco Nacional bills have gone to 65 cents and Banco de Londres to 41 cents.

Other well known banks of issue, admittedly solvent, have indicated equal firmness. The bills of the Mercantil as 60 cents, Banco de Veracruz are selling as high as 60 cents, Banco de Hidalgo 60 cents, Jalisco 55 cents. The shares of these banks are at $83.50 for Banco Nacional, $40 for Banco de Londres. Par is $100.

According to the Boletin Financiere de Mexico the total outstanding bills of the Banco de Londres is $26,246,141 and debts of previous governments to the bank $29,232,262.21. If these debts are paid in full a surplus of more than three millions of pesos remains after paying the bank's bills at par.

ENTERTAIN "CHIMES OF NORMANDY" CAST

Mr. and Mrs. D. Ripley Jackson entertained members of the cast in the "Chimes of Normandy" at their home on Brand and San Fernando road after the last performance Friday night. The young people danced until the wee sma' hours and refreshments were served.

AUTO ACCIDENTS CAUSE INJURY

Several People Hurt In Two Bad Smashups; Machines Considerably Damaged

H. S. Linne of 511 S. Cummings street, Los Angeles, was driving south on Verdugo Road yesterday afternoon at about 4:30 in a Ford Sedan, accompanied by Miss Naomi Hall and his machine was run into at the Colorado street crossing by H. L. Billingslaw, 1000 S. Hope street, Los Angeles, who was driving east. Both Linne and Miss Hall were considerably injured, the latter receiving a bad cut above one knee, which required several stitches to close. She suffered other injuries also. She is at the Glendale Sanitarium, where she was taken immediately after the accident.

Earlier in the day there was a spectacular smashup on San Bernando Road, just south of Broadway. F. D. Showalter of Taft was driving a truck north, when he was smashed into by J. W. Craig, of Los Angeles, who drove around a wagon and could not stop in time to avoid a collision. The truck was thrown around crosswise of the road and struck the wagon, which was loaded with household goods, damaging it greatly. The truck also considerably damaged and the machine that charged into it so fiercely was almost a total wreck. It is now at the Dodge Service Station, undergoing repairs. One of the three vehicles that staged this complex smashup struck Pedro Silva, who was peacefully plodding along at the side of the road and inflicted serious injuries. He was taken to a hospital. J. Orrego, who was in charge of the wagon, was conveying his household goods to San Diego, where he and his family expected to move from San Fernando. The wife and children were to follow him today by stage, from the former home in San Fernando.

LIKES GLENDALE BEST

J. H. Huff, who recently came from Iowa to Southern California with his wife and daughter, Ruth Thelma Huff, and engaged in business in Los Angeles, is now a resident of Glendale at 1027 South Boynton street. He likes the city so much that he has sold out his business interests in the Angel City and has now associated himself with E. N. Smith at 204 East Broadway.

SORORITY HONORS MARGARET LUSBY

Members of the Zeta Tau Alpha, the sorority to which Miss Margaret Lusby and Miss Martha Ray of this city, belong, gave a dinner Monday evening in the sorority house to honor Miss Lusby and also Miss Florence Hunnewell of Beverly Hills, whose wedding will be celebrated March 26. Covers were laid for 26 young women and the house mother, and the conspicuous feature of the table decorations was a bride kewpie, wonderfully gowned, and mounted on a pedestal covered with freesias and ferns. This kewpie faced the two brides-elect, each of whose place cards bore a verse expressing the affection in which they are held by the sorority.

After the dinner had been dispatched with the accompaniment of merry nonsense that might be expected from such a gathering, Miss Hunnewell was requested to visit another room to get a package for Miss Lusby, and the Glendale girl was sent upon a similar errand for Miss Hunnewell. On their return the two girls exchanged their finds, and opened the packages. Miss Lusby found a solid silver pie knife of the pattern she prefers, and a beautiful cold-meat fork. Both were marked Z. T. A. Miss Hunnewell was presented with a solid silved mayonnaise bowl and spoon, on which the same initials were engraved.

Following the dinner, the girls spent an informal social evening together.

WARNED AGAINST STOCKING UP FRESH MEATS

Express Confidence in Ability of Packers to Maintain a Supply

CHICAGO, March 16.—Confidence in the ability of the packers to maintain an uninterrupted supply of fresh meats despite any developments that may come in the wage controversies, was expressed today in a statement issued by J. Ogden Armour. Armour expressly warned retail dealers against stocking up with fresh meats in anticipation of a strike. Such a policy, he declared, would result in an artificial shortage and force prices up without benefitting anyone.

JOSEPH FUREY SENTENCED TO PEN

Made Home in Glendale for Several Years—Caused Deputy Sheriffs' Arrest

Joe Furey, Furay or Fouray, as his name is variously spelled, was sentenced in Fort Worth, Tex., yesterday, to 20 years in the penitentiary, after pleading guilty to bunkoing Frank Norfleet, a wealthy rancher, out of $45,000 in a fake stock deal. He it was whose revelations caused the arrest of Walter Lips and W. J. Anderson, deputy sheriffs of Los Angeles county, on charges of bribery and extortion. Furey's home for several years past was at 412 Piedmont Park, Glendale, though he was seldom there. His wife, who gave her name as Mrs. D. Winters, and their son, known as Mark Winters, lived there until a month or two ago, when the property was sold.

NEARING $200,000 FOR MARCH ALREADY

Glendale Still Making Mighty Strides in Building of All Kinds

At 9 o'clock this morning the building permits for March had reached the total of $175,013 and the year's record so far was more than half a million—to be exact, $516,474. Among the recent permits were those of Clifford L. Brochu for a 5-room residence and a garage, at 807 E Colorado, to cost $3500; N. M. Knaus of 444 Vine, who recently remodeled his home there by adding a room, and now is building a 4-room residence at 706 North Jackson, to cost $3100. Mr. Hidley took out the permit for his business building of 4 rooms at the corner of Broadway and Orange at numbers 200, 202, 204 and 206 on the former street, naming $10,000 as the estimated cost. B. D. Jackson is further proving the popularity of the Childs tract by starting the erection of a 4-room residence at 710 E. Elk, to cost $1978.

O. J. HUTTON SELLS EASTERN HOLDINGS

Is Now in Glendale and Expects to Become a Permanent Resident

O. J. Hutton, a resident of Brookline a suburb of Boston, Mass., for many years and a heavy stockholder in the Beacon Shoe Manufacturing Company, recently sold out his fine home and his holdings in the company and came to California with his family. They are now at Mrs. Laura Sibley's apartments, 718 South Brand. They expect to buy or build a home here. O. J. is a son of the late Chas. E. Hutton, who was killed in an auto accident two years ago last October. His widow, Mrs. Eva M. Hutton, of 326 East Colorado, was quite delighted and surprised to see her stepson and family, as she had had no intimation of their coming.

COAL MINES TO CLOSE TONIGHT

SEATTLE, March 16.—Practically all commercial coal mines in Washington will close tonight, the result of the employers' announced reduction in wages and the decision of District No. 10 United Mine Workers of America, to resist the cut.

The strike will throw 2500 men out of work. The wage reduction amounts to about 23 per cent.

MAKE TO ADJUST LABOR TROUBLES

President Harding Approves Plans for Conference to Settle Matter

WASHINGTON, March 16.—President Harding today approved the plans for the conference between Secretary of Labor Davis and representatives of the packers and the packers employes in an effort to adjust labor troubles in that industry. The Prseident approved the plan of having Secretary of Agriculture Wallace and Secretary of Commerce Hoover participate in the negotiations. Secretary Davis said the date for the conference had been tentatively set for March 21, but that it may be held earlier if the representatives of the employes can be here before Friday of this week.

BARRAGE OF PUBLICITY

[From Publishers Auxiliary]

On Thursday of last week, William Dalton, 16, walked out of the bank of the Northern Trust Company, where he was employed in Chicago, taking with him $772,000 worth of Liberty bonds.

Last Saturday he was apprehended at Heyworth, Illinois, with all of the bonds but $500, a reward of $26,000 paid for his capture, and before night he was on his way back to Chicago to face the music.

There is no question about the publication of details of the theft having been instrumental in the quick roundup of this boy. His picture was printed in every paper in Chicago and circulated over a dozen states in which almost every family had an opportunity to study it; the numbers of the hundreds of bonds taken were printed in those same papers to prevent the young man from disposing of his plunder; the little black bag which he had purchased to carry his bonds in was described. After the papers came out and got into the hands of their readers he hadn't a chance in the world to get away. The only bond he negotiated was one for $500, which he sold upon leaving the bank and before the news of the crime had been published.

There is no need to speculate upon what caused the young man to take the bonds—he probably was scared half to death when he found he was alone with them and had no idea what he was going to do with them.

The outstanding fact is that because of a barrage of publicity surrounding every feature of the incident, the boy was taken and $771,500 worth of the bonds recovered in about forty-eight hours.

At the same time there are certain kinds of crimes of which to publish all the details would serve no good purpose, but would increase the weakness of the weak and quicken the criminal tendencies of the criminally inclined.

NEWSPAPER READ ALL OVER

The answer to the ancient wheeze, "What's the difference between a watermelon and a newspaper?" is that a watermelon is red inside only and the newspaper is read all over.

We always thought this should have some significance to the small business man who doesn't advertise because he can't afford large space, and is afraid a small advertisement would not attract attention. Everything attracts attention in the newspaper.

To cite an example: If the Press should print a single line in the smallest-faced type tomorrow morning reflecting on the stability of the soundest bank in the city, there would be a line of people at the paying teller's window at 10 o'clock in the morning to withdraw their money.

Another instance of the minuteness with which the columns of a newspaper are scanned, comes before a contemporary in the shape of a letter of complaint. It appears that the official report of the weather in a city 3000 miles distant was omitted from the customary tabulation.

Who can imagine an item of information less likely to be missed? And yet it was missed, and an aggrieved reader, who declares he is only one of many people interested in the subject, makes emphatic protest.

FINDS BRIDE AMONG VICTIMS

(By International News Service)

PORTER, Ind., March 16.—George Ganst, fifty-five, a widower, was waiting for Mrs. Theodosia Haskins, fifty-five, a Chicago widow, in Niles, Mich., when the news of the recent Michigan Central New York rail horror here reached him. She was to have arrived for their wedding.

Reaching here, Ganst hastened to the morgue. He was unable to recognize any of the bodies, but his head dropped when he saw a ring on the finger of one. It was the engagement token he had given Mrs. Haskins. A pearl necklace and $100 in cash she carried were missing. After identifying the ring, he stared in silence at the body, then gasped.

"Why the hair was black very black. Look at it now."

Her hair had turned pure white.

FAREWELL TRIP OF CANADA GOVERNOR

(By International News Service)

MONTREAL, March 16.—The Western trip which His Excellency the Duke of Devonshire will take next month will be largely in the nature of a farewell visit prior to his leaving for home.

The term of the Governor-General does not expire until next fall, but it is understood to be his intention to leave Canada during the Summer.

From all advices so far received here, the choice of the next Governor-General lies between Lord Desbroough and Lord Byng. Appointment is made by the British Government, but recently there has been an intimation that prior to any choice the Dominion Government would be consulted as a manifestation of broadened democracy. It is understood that nothing has transpired as yet, but the names mentioned are both viewed with favorable acceptance here.

COMMUNION WINE HASN'T ANY 'KICK'

(By International News Service)

BOSTON, March 16.—Burglars who break into Baptist churches or parsonages seeking forbidden fruits in the form of communion wine, will acquire a "lemon," according to the Rev. Dr. Austen K. de Blois, D. D., pastor of the First Baptist Church.

Dr. de Blois, whose study was recently ransacked, announces to prospective wine thieves in particular that only unfermented wine, or grape juice, is used for communion by Baptist churches.

STILLMAN CASE MAY BE DROPPED

(By International News Service)

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., March 16.—Argument on two motions in the suit of James A. Stillman, multimillionaire president of the National City Bank of New York, for divorces from Mrs. Anna U. Stillman, was indefinitely postponed today in the supreme court here.

It was hinted that the suit will be dropped in New York state and another one filed in California or Nevada. In the New York suit Stillman had named a half breed Indian guide, a former employe, as co-respondent.

WANTS HOSPITAL FOR SOLDIERS

(By International News Service)

BOSTON, March 16.—The Boston Chamber of Commerce announced today that it had taken up the fight for a Federal hospital to be located in New England for disabled service men. Requests that the Chamber take such action have been made by the American Legion and other bodies.

The directors announced that the full weight of the Chamber's 7500 membership would be placed behind the bill for a Federal hospital in New England.

THOUSAND RECRUITS HANG ON TO MOUNTAIN BULLIES

Sergeant Mickey Bentley Invades Moonshine Districts

(By International News Service)

CHICAGO, March 16.—Sergeant Edward M. (Mickey) Bentley, former University of Chicago law student, is one man who is worth a regiment to the army. He has proven it by turning himself into a one-man recruiting bureau and enlisting 1104 ex-moonshiners for service in the First Division.

Sergeant Bentley produced a regiment of raw material for the army at a cost of 17 pairs of shoes, $2000 in his own money, 1160 miles of travel, 54 pounds of his own weight and a case of "nerves." He now is in Walter Reed Hospital, Washington, D. C., recovering from the expedition, but he plans to go back among the "hill billies" as soon as he can look at one without getting sick.

His Own Idea

His plan to spread the Gospel of the new army through the Blue Ridge Mountains was his own. He had been released from the hospital on sick leave, so he neded no complicated official sanction for the work. He started up into the mountains weighing 205 pounds and believing his uniform would serve as a guaranty of good faith among the hardy but suspicious mountaineers.

He speedily discovered that he had not heard much about mountaineers, and that the mountaineers had not heard about the army. It is the custom in the mountains, it appears, to shoot first and listen to recruiting talks afterward.

But Bentley, for all of his physical extension, did not stop any bullets. He returned with his 1107 recruits only three of whom failed to pass official muster, and received a gold watch from the First Division society and a letter of commendation from Washington. The letter indicated that a pair of shoulder bars might be one of his rewards. For it seems that in arguing with unwilling moonshiners Bentley convinced himself that the army was the greatest institution in the world, and he has decided to remain with it.

The "Billy Sunday" of the Army

Bentley is known among his comrades of the First Division as "the Billy Sunday of the Army," thanks to his success in "evangelistic" work. He recently filed a report of his expedition—a report containing more of romance and adventure than hitherto had been recorded in the history of the recruiting service.

His journeyings frequently were made under constant peril of a chance shot from some moonshiner on watch for stray "revenooers"—one who did "draw bead" on him eventually succumbed to his arguments and "joined up"—and the necessity of getting on a friendly basis with the mountaineers demanded that he take part in their daily life and even participate in their occupations. At one time Sergeant Bentley donned a miner's outfit and worked underground in order to win the confidence of prospective "rookies." Staid army regulations took him to task for this, but he escaped punishment because of the results he obtained.

Often penetrating into wilds fifty or sixty miles from a railroad, Sergeant "Mickey" was forced to out-talk a native suspicion, heightened by his Northern accent, before the family Winchester would be laid aside and he would be allowed to "put up" for the night—and, incidentally, talk army to the men of the family. Many of his recruits were obtained in this awy.

Once deciding to join the army the eagerness of the mountaineer to "be a soldier" was amusing as well as pathetic, says the sergeant. He always carried extra uniforms in his pack, and when the first recruit was "tricked out" his chest measurement noticeably expanded. When a "recruiting service" armband was added his self-esteem rose another notch, but when he was decorated with an "M. P." band, and assigned to convoy a batch of fellow recruits to division headquarters, he "felt bigger than the President of the United States."

Compared with his twenty-six months' service "over there" with the First Division, Sergeant "Mickey" says his mountain experiences "make a little thing sleeping in a trench on the western front seem like playtime again." Substantiation of this opinion might be gained from the fact that when the sergeant started on his "hike" he weighed 205 pounds, and quit the job tipping the beam at 151.

RING REPARTEE

"Ah suah does pity you," said a colored pugilist to his opponent as they squared off. "Ah was bohn with boxin' gloves on."

"Maybe you was," retorted the other, "and Ah reckin you'se goin' to die de same way."—Boston Transcript.

YOUR BAGGAGE

By FRANK E. MASON

(By International News Service)

BERLIN, March 16.—Unless the Allies take suitable precautions they risk the loss of their reparations which may be lifted by the deft-fingered employes of the Prussion and Hessian railroads, according to official figures published in the Berlin Lokal Anzeiger of railroad thefts during the last year.

The figures are an index of the complete moral breakdown of Germany during the last two years, and would be scarcely believable were it not for the stories appearing daily in the Berlin newspapers of wholesale thefts from Berlin freight yards.

"On the Prussian-Hessian branch of the Federal railroads no less than 288,975 cases of thievery were established during the year 1920," announces the Lokal Anzeiger. These cases are divided as follows:

Hand baggage, 7842 pieces; baggage, trunks, etc., 82,701 pieces; express, 6246 pieces; freight, 124,678 pieces; freight car contents, 17,509 cars.

"Of these losses, in 17,140 cases, the thieves were apprehended; of this number 8806 were stolen by railroad employes. For thievery, profiteering and bribery, 5770 railroad employes were discharged during the year 1920."

Between 30 and 35 a woman's chance of marrying is 15½ per cent; between 35 and 40 it is 3¾ per cent, according to an arbitrary table made by a mere man.

ATTEMPT TO SET ASIDE DIVORCE CASE

Brief Is Filed to Set Aside Mary Pickford-Owen Moore Divorce

(By International News Service)

MINDEN, Nev., March 16.—For the courts of Nevada to permit the State Attorney-General to intervene for the purpose of setting aside the divorce granted to Mary Pickford, famous motion picture star, from Owen E. Moore, also noted as a screen star, would throw open to attack the thousands of divorces that have been granted in Nevada since that State became famous as a centre of divorces, according to the contentions of a brief filed here today by counsel for the "sweetheart of America."

The brief—a final one in the preliminary legal skirmish of the State's endeavor to annul the Pickford divorce — characterizes the right claimed by the Attorney-General of the State of Nevada to institute the proceedings as nothing more than "fictional," and asks the court to revoke the order of publication in the case brought by the State and to quash the summons served by such publication.

The brief charges that the Attorney-General in a "sixty-day investigation" has failed "to disclose a single fact which might serve as a precedent for the maintenance and prosecution of the case at bar."

The divorce which the State seeks to annul was granted Gladys M. Moore, as the screen star was known in private life, from Owen E. Moore by Presiding Judge Frank P. Langan, of Douglas County, nearly a year ago. At the time she filed the divorce suit the screen star was staying at a nearby ranch. Service was had on Moore when he came into Nevada on a "movie location" excursion.

Following the granting of the decree the screen star returned to California and later married Douglas Fairbanks, celebrated movie star. Attorney-General Leonard B. Fowler of the State of Nevada, then instituted proceedings to have the decree annulled, alleging collusion and fraud.

"To permit the Attorney-General of the State to maintain and prosecute this action is to make it possible for him to make a similar attack upon every judgment heretofore rendered by the courts of the State of Nevada," declared the brief filed today.

"A successful litigant would never know when the Attorney-General of the State of Nevada might claim fraud or collusion in connection with a decree obtained in his own action for divorce. It should be obvious to the court that the security and the dignity of the judgments rendered by the courts of the State of Nevada would immediately become impaired if it were held that such judgments might be subjected to the whimsical and capricious attack of the Attorney-General of the State. To recognize such authority or so-called 'elementary power' on the part of the Attorney-General in connection with the case of Moore vs. Moore, as would warrant the maintenance of the pending action, is to immediately render subject to attack thousands of decrees of divorce, if not thousands of judgments of other character, rendered by the courts of the State of Nevada.

"Many of the persons divorced by these decrees rendered by the courts of the State of Nevada have remarried. Many of these persons have borne children as the result of their subsequent wedlock. Will the courts of the State of Nevada permit an Attorney-General to strike at the very foundation of society and the status upon which our society rests—namely, the marriage status, by sanctioning a whimsical and capricious attack, such as he has made upon the decree in the case of Moore vs. Moore? Why has the Attorney-General selected the parties to the action of Moore vs. Moore and the decree rendered in that case, out of the many thousands of litigants, and out of the many thousands of decrees, as the one group of litigants and as the one decree to be subjected to this unprecedented and unwarranted attack?" the brief demands.

"Government, according to the American plan, is and is not, by its consent, a part to this action."

The action of the State is being fought by some of the best known attorneys on the Pacific Coast, in behalf of the now Mrs. Fairbanks. They include Gavin McNab, P. A. McCarran Nat Schmulowitz, Gray Mashburb.

POISONOUS DYES IN WOMEN'S FURS

(By International News Service)

CHICAGO, March 16.—Now it's "fur poisoning."

Health Commissioner John Dill Robertson is investigating eleven cases of skin diseases reported here which is believed to have been caused by poisonous dyes in women's furs. An effort also is being made to find the manufacturer of the tainted furs.

"So far," said Dr. J. P. Kilcourse, city pure food expert, "we have been unable to ascertain that there are any of these poisonous furs handled in Chicago. Apparently they all come from New York. Chicago concerns which make furs into garments buy the skins either in St. Louis or New York. The authorities of these two cities should investigate the use of cheap and poisonous fur dyes.

COLLEGE STUDENTS PRAISE CAFETERIAS

(By International News Service)

MADISON, Wis., March 16.—The plebeian cafeteria is supplanting the college boarding house of yesterday, a survey at the University of Wisconsin reveals.

Fully 39 per cent of the students, it was shown, eat at cafeterias, where letters and science who answered the questionnaire, 39 per cent ate at cafeterias, 25 per cent in fraternity or sorority house, 15 per cent at boarding houses, 12 per cent at home and 7 per cent worked for their meals. In the college of agriculture 53 per cent reported that they ate in cafeterias.

FOUR MEN AND WOMAN BURNED

Origin of Fire Mystery to the Train Crew and Officials

WALSENBURG, Colo., March 16.—Four men and a woman were burned to death early today when a Pullman car attached to a westbound Denver & Rio Grande train caught fire five miles west of this city.

The origin of the fire is a mystery to the train crew and officials are investigating its cause.

Smoke was first discovered pouring from the vestibule of the Pullman but flames spread so rapidly that heroic efforts to rescue the five victims were futile. The porter and one passenger escaped from the burning car which was completely demolished. The four men and the woman were trapped in their berths and burned beyond recognition.

A. B. Jack of Lajara, Colo., and E. S. Spollman, traveling freight agent for the Missouri Pacific railroad, have been identified by marks on the remnants of their clothing. The woman is believed to be from Creede, Colo.

The car was attached to train No. 115 which left Denver Monday evening for Alamosa. The vestibule of a second Pullman of the train was burned but the twenty occupants escaped in their night clothes without injury.

RENT PLAYGROUND FOR CIRCUS LOT

(By International News Service)

WORCESTER, Mass., March 16.—The city playground at Beaver Brook will be used in the future as a circus ground, according to a decision reached by the Park and Reservation Commission today, and as a result the city treasury will be $250 richer with every circus that visits Worcester, the commissioners estimate.

MISS MAY JEPSON WEDS JESSE WILKES

Pretty Home Wedding Witnessed By Immediate Relatives of Young People

Tuesday evening at the close of a beautiful day, Miss May Jepson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Jepson was united in marriage to Jesse Wilkes at the home of her parents, 420 Lincoln avenue. It was a simple home affair and witnesses were limited to the immediate relatives of the contracting parties. Nevertheless a beautiful setting had been provided for the supreme event in the lives of these two young people and it will always be a beautiful memory to them. Flowers which California is so ready to "pour from out her lavish horn" at this season of the year, were in every appropriate place, particularly the fragrant sweet pea.

The pretty bride was gowned in white crepe de chine trimmed with pearls which had been part of the garnishings of her grandmother's wedding dress. She carried a bouquet of bride roses and was attended by two charming bridesmaids, her sister, Miss Elsie Jepson and her sister to be, Miss Irene Wilkes. Frank Wilkes, brother of the groom was best man. Rev. Webster officiated and Mrs. R. C. Horner played the wedding march.

Of course there were wedding refreshments after Mr. and Mrs. Wilkes had been duly congratulated and the young people had the usual difficulty in eluding friends who would send them off in time honored fashion well sprinkled with rice and pelted with old shoes, but they did get away and are now enjoying a honeymoon at some spot place unknown. On their return they will make their home on East Acacia with the groom's mother.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Jepson, Miss Dessa Jepson, aunt of the bride, Misses Elsie and Nellie Jepson, and Messrs. Frank and Herbert Jepson, sisters and brothers of the bride, Mrs. Wilkes, mother of the groom, his sisters Irene and Frankie Wilkes, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Wilkes, his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Reed and Mr. and Mrs. Lowe, sisters and brother-in-law of the groom, Mrs. R. C. Horner, and Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Wilkes.

New Tracts Are Opened Up To Meet Demand For Many New Homes

The big development that has made Glendale famous as the fastest growing city in the United States and which seems likely to continue indefinitely is leading to a survey of the city with a view to locating desirable unoccupied sections for improvement with homes. This trend of thought and business enterprise is turning with increasing frequency to the southern portion of our city which has aptly been called Glendale's gateway.

The narrow flatiron point which Glendale projects into its big sister municipality, makes a very beautiful gateway and it is questionable if a more entrancing view of foothills and farther peaks can be had in Southern California. Another advantage which to some may seem sordid but which nevertheless has a very practical appeal from the pocketbook standpoint, is its nearness to Los Angeles and consequent cheaper fare and the shorter trolley ride to the business center of the angel city. The investments which are being made by outside capital in the Richardson properties and other desirable vacant real estate are straws which show which way the wind is blowing.

But not alone in the building of beautiful homes is the movement apparent. New businesses are being started and merchants and tradesmen with faith in that part of our thriving community have been seeking locations there. New life is coming in and that usually spells activity, enterprise and prosperity.

The Glendale Daily Press is glad to bring to the attention of its readers some of the business men in that locality who are helping to make history for our city and keep her in her rightful place in the galaxy of Southern California municipal stars. They may not realize how great is the work they are doing, but when all the beautiful territory that is now green meadow sprinkled with the pink and white of blossoming fruit trees is built up solidly with homes or with business blocks, they will realize the part they have played in the scheme of destiny and be proud of it.

Live Wire Boosters Of South Glendale

The number of progressive and enterprising business men in South Glendale is increasing every day, several newcomers in the busines district having moved in during the past week. There is a noticeable improvement in the size of stocks carried, and the general appearance of nearly every line of business; in fact, South Glendale is taking on new life in more ways than one.

The Triangle Garage

W. A. Evenas is one of the latest arrivals in the business district, being the new owner of the Triangle Garage. Mr. Evans is a live wire, an expert mechanic, and will give the people the best service. He plans on making many improvements .

The Glendale Grill

This popular eating place is meeting every demand of the public, and is catering to people who like the best. The Sunday chicken dinner at 75 cents and the week-day luncheon are proving very popular. Mrs. Hartt, the proprietress, certainly understands her business.

Virden's Drug Store

This institution is supplying the needs of the people in a manner that makes it unnecessary for residents to go to the city for drugs, etc. Mrs. Virden is up-to-date in her business methods, employs an expert pharmacist, and gives the best of service.

Brenkman, the Electrician

C. L. Brenkman is a live wire and a big booster for the south end. He is also an expert in his line and should enjoy a good business. Call him the next time you need anything done in his line; give the local man a chance to do your work.

The Dunsford Shop

Here you can get cleaning and pressing done in a very satisfactory manner and at the right price. This concern also has an expert dressmaker.

Dave's Barber Shop

D. C. Lovell came to what was then Tropico about six years ago, and has had a first class barber business there ever since. He has great faith in the future of the city and "stuck to his business" when all his competitors abandoned the field and moved away. Dave is an A-1 barber and a good fellow. He carries a full line of cigars, tobacco, etc., and has the agency for a first class laundry.

Bradshaw's Grocery and Meat Market

This institution is certainly up-to-date in every respect and judging from the big business enjoyed, is certainly making good with the people. This place would do credit to a city many times the size of South Glendale.

The Guarantee Plumber

J. C. Satow, the plumber, is ready to save his patrons money on their work and to give estimates free on any job. He also carries a good line of supplies and fixtures. Mr. Satow is an expert plumber.

The Park Avenue Pharmacy

One of the big claims of this popular place is "service," which includes free delivery, expert handling of prescriptions and courteous treatment. E. E. Brown, the proprietor, is a big booster for the south end and deserves a liberal patronage.

Roose & Murphy

This firm carries a large stock of new and second-hand furniture, and being practical furuniture men, are able to save the public money. They also buy, sell and exchange furniture, and repair, paint and upholster. Their experience will prove valuable to anyone needing furniture.

Clanin's Grocery and Meat Market

C. Clanin is what the oldtimers call a "pioneer" in the grocery business, having been located on the corner of Park avenue and Brand for the past seven years. He is reliable and dependable and thoroughly versed in his business. He prides himself on the service and quality of his goods. He also delivers free and shows his patrons every possible courtesy.

Anderson, the Florist

M. L. Anderson, hte florist, has an advertisement in this issue of the Daily Press. It is not necessary for this firm to do extensive advertising for they have been here so long and are so well-known, that their friends always remember them and new people readily patronize them once they learn of the splendid service rendered. Mr. Anderson at one time was the owner of the largest chrysanthemum orchard in Southern California, and his reputation as a florist is state-wide. Mrs. Corbaley, an expert in this line, is in charge of the business and will be glad to extend every courtesy possible.

Guthrie, the Real Estate Man

Manager Von Oven is kept on the jump these days taking care of the numerous prospective buyers at Guthrie Center. He takes pride in the fact that Guthrie is the pioneer real estate man of that section; and buyers supplement this assertion by saying he has sold more property than anyone else in that particular location. He has some exceptionally good buys just now. Drop in and talk it over with Von Oven.

Albaeck's Cigar Factory

South Glendale has a real cigar factory and a man in charge who has the reputation of making a cigar that is second to none. This man is C. Albaeck, one of the most expert cigar men in this country. Mr. Albaeck puts out the Burbank cigar, which is proving a big seller. It is hand-made, of the finest imported tobacco and has a flavor that pleases the most particular smoker. Mr. Albaeck will soon branch out and make many changes in his business, which will add materially to his usefulness in the community.

Heald the Jeweler

South Glendale has an expert jeweler and watchmaker in the person of W. E. Heald. Mr. Heald has had a long and varied experience and is an expert in his line.

Mitchell's Repairing Establishment

W. D. Mitchell is one of the few men who can take an old piece of furniture or a mattress and make it look like new. As a result, he is always busy, and has about all the work he can handle. You will save money by seeing him and getting his prices.

L. Cuny, the Artist

L. Cuny, an artist of ability, has an exhibition of oil paintings at the store of C. L. Brenkman, 1510 South San Fernando road. Mr. Cuny is a recent arrival from Detroit, Michigan, and is anxious to place his work before the Glendale public. The work exhibited shows rare ability and Mr. Cuny invites an inspection of the same.

Laura's Cafe

Few communities the size of South Glendale have a better cafe than the one conducted by Mr. LaCohn. Long experience, catering to the better class of trade, has well equipped him to handle the public in a highly satisfactory manner. An expert chef is in charge of the culinary department and a courteous and capable corps of waiters look after the wants of the patrons.

HAPPY SURPRISE OF ISABEL FRANKLIN

Miss Isabel Franklin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Blake Franklin of West Wilson avenue, attained her seventeenth birthday last Saturday. With two girl chums—Carmen de Lara and Marian Gray—she had been given a hiking trip the week before by her father to the head of Millard Canyon. It was decided this must suffice for a birthday celebration, but there was a surprise in store for her. Who should walk in durnig the afternoon but her brother, Donald Franklin, who is so near in age and so dear as to seem like a twin. He had taken advantage of an opportunity to motor down from Palmdale with Mr. and Mrs. Robert McAdam and surprise his sister on her natal day. He returned to Palmdale Monday with Mr. McAdam. Donald is conducting a ten-acre pear ranch at Palmdale, where the climate agrees with him and seems to like his horticultural work very much.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert McAdam and baby, who motored down from Palmdale Saturday spent the week-end with Mrs. McAdam's sister, Mrs. John F. Torrey, of 218 West California street. Mr. McAdam returned to his pear ranch Monday, leaving his wife to pass the week with her relativse. He will come down again to spend Sunday here and take them home. Mrs. McAdam was Miss Ruby Farnsworth before her marriage and has a host of friends here.

TAME BASEBALL GAME

Glendale High's baseball team had a practice game with Burbank Tuesday afternoon which was not a very exciting affair as the Glendale team was too strong to be a fair match. The game ended in a score of 26 to 1 in favor of Glendale.

JUST FOR THIS WEEK

$5500

A splendid home on North Jackson. Just think of it! This modern bungalow has 7 large rooms, every built-in feature you could think of, and just far enough from Broadway to be away from the noise. Full-size lot, large garage, on alley. Plenty of fruit and flowers. We believe this to be the best bargain we have seen for a year. If interested act quick, as this will only last for a few days. Inquire for terms.

Another good one on Harvard. New, modern, well-built 5-room Colonial for $3700. We do not believe you can find another as good at the money. Terms.

We can show you exactly what we advertise.

"GLEN AND DALE"

Thirty or more of the Glendale District Christian Endeavorers met at the Glendale Presbyterian Church Tuesday evening for a final practice on the Glendale songs to be sung by "Glen and Dale" at the Los Angeles county Christian Endeavor convention Saturday of this week.

After a thorough practice of the songs, the young people gathered around tables and with busy scissors cut out sombreros, on which are printed "Glendale for Mine," and "June 25 to 29." These will be given out to delegates to be worn at the Whittier convention, Friday, Saturday and Sunday of this week, advertising Glendale as the place of the coming state convention, June 25 to 29.

Delicious refreshments of chocolate and wafers were served by the Intermediates of the Glendale Presbyterian Church and while a large amount of work was accomplished, the young people had a happy time of fellowship together.

"Glen and Dale," the Spanish twins, will be on hand all day Saturday and boost for Glendale, and a large number of the young people of our city are planning to spend the day, Saturday, at the convention, some going over on Friday for the full time. Saturday is to be "Glendale Day" at Whittier and Rev. W. E. Edmonds of the Glendale Presbyterian Church will deliver the evening address. A splendid time is assured all who attend the Whittier convention and all the young people of Glendale, whether Endeavorers or not, are most cordially invited to be present.

"GLEN AND DALE."

Elder F. W. Paap, 1416 East California street, will leave Glendale on the 27th instant for evangelistic work in Kansas in behalf of the Seventh Day Adventist church. He will be absent about three months. Mrs. Paap will remain at home meantime with her sons.

Miss Tomlin of 320 Oak street is moving to Altadena.
